

7/14/09

To: Interim Guidelines Consultation
Dear Sirs

Sender: Mrs. Wendy Willis

There is no evidence to show that privatisation of PCT's will improve services, - either in cost or quality

Why should a good health Service be privatised to make profits for Shareholders. If all services were retained in the public sector any profits could go towards research and/or better services not to fleece pockets.

Bevan would turn in his grave if he thought UK could end up like America - health care for the rich only.

In short, I am totally against any involvement from the Private Sector.

There has not been enough consultation and the average man in the street knows nothing of what's going on. Meanwhile we continue to be bombarded with Questionnaires asking if we are happy with our G.P.! The 3rd one has gone in the bin like all the rest. A complete waste of time and money! (If I was not happy I would complain). Why don't they ask the honest question "Do you want your NHS privatised?"!

I'm sure the answer would be a resounding "NO".
Yours Faithfully